

Medical Benefits of Hydrotherapy

For almost a century, doctors, therapists and clinics have prescribed hydrotherapy for their patients. There are many reasons for this, but one stands out: Hydrotherapy is the only known form of natural pain relief and stress reduction. As the body ages, the natural cleansing ability of muscles deteriorates. Arthritis, stress and other disorders affect muscles and joints causing stiffness and pain. The forceful jet action of a whirlpool bath spa causes an osmosis effect that draws lactic acid and other contaminants out of the tissue leaving it cleansed the way it was meant to be. A whirlpool bath spa relieves pain, tension, sore muscles and aching joints. There is no better way to slip off the tensions and fatigue of the day than a whirlpool bath spa. It stimulates the body, improves circulation and induces sound, restful sleep. Hydrotherapy is the only physical therapy you can do at home affordably.

Customized Jet Placement

Because correct placement of the hydro-jets is essential to receive maximum benefit, every Whirlbathe installation is handled on an individual basis to insure complete satisfaction. The quiet Whirlbathe system creates heat through friction in the water pump that maintains the water temperature while recirculating all the water in the tub, unlike noisy portable air bubble-type systems, which cool your bath water in a few minutes.

Inexpensive Compared to Jetted Baths or Hot Tubs

By removing and replacing an existing tub, a consumer spends thousands of dollars more on remodeling, plumbing, labor, time and added expenses for a new bathtub unit. Whirlbathe conversion systems are installed in existing bathtubs without removing them, and at a small fraction of the replacement cost. A Whirlbathe system installation contains only one moving part and is maintenance-free.

Introducing Whirlbathe

Back in the 70's Whirlbathe invented the whirlpool bathtub (US Pat. #4,419,775) and have received five other patents over the years in the whirlpool industry. After 25 years in business, Whirlbathe is the only specially designed name brand system of converting any previously installed bathtub into a luxurious whirlpool bath spa without removing it. Our unique design is like no other whirlpool system available in this country.
